

„Luftwaffe Arado 234 B-2“

by Barry Price.

One of the most advanced aircraft of World War II, the Ar 234 with its twin turbojets could carry out its high altitude reconnaissance or Bombing duties at a speed which made interception by Allied aircraft virtually impossible.

Aircraft portrayed belonged to 9/KG 76 based at Achmer, February 1945.

Limited Edition of 450, signed and numbered by the artist. Overall size ca. 53 cm x 36 cm.